

Virginia State University in partnership with, St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, and Petersburg Parks and Leisure Services is sponsoring a free three-week science camp for rising 4th and 5th graders. The Sci-Tastic (Science is Fantastic) camp will be held July 2 through 17, Mondays through Thursdays in the parish hall of St. Stephen's Church. The camp hours are from 9:00 am to 4:00 pm.

Each week, campers will witness science come alive through exciting hands-on investigations in physics, engineering, and biology, and fun, educational field trips. Registration, which closes June 12th, is on a first-come, first-serve basis.
